Where Security Meets Social Responsibility

SRG RISK MANAGEMENT

Company Profile

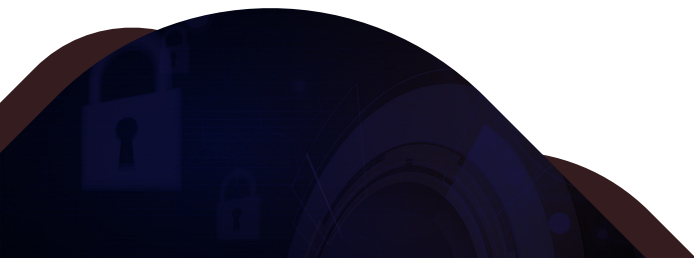

ABOUT US

Headquartered in Dar es Salaam, Strategic Resources Group (SRG) specializes in providing enterprise security risk management (ESRM) consultancy and advisory services tailored for the extractives industry, with a specific focus on the mining sector. With a commitment to excellence, SRG brings a wealth of industry-specific expertise to address security, safety, and community engagement challenges.

Understanding the intricacies of the mining industry, SRG leverages its industry-specific expertise to address unique security concerns. The company's capabilities in project management and risk consultancy are complemented by a robust understanding of physical security requirements.

At SRG, ethical practices are fundamental. The company adheres to global standards, including the Voluntary Principles on Security and Human Rights, the International Code of Conduct for Private Security Service Providers, and IFC Performance Standard 4. These principles underscore SRG's commitment to responsible business conduct.

SRG boasts a dedicated team comprising locally trained and expatriate security specialists. With extensive experience in operating within the security and extractive industry throughout Africa, the team collaborates closely with health, safety, environment, community relations, and human resource departments. This collaborative approach ensures the establishment and maintenance of a robust security risk management process.

OUR MISSION

Empowering sustainable growth through cutting-edge enterprise security risk management solutions, SRG is dedicated to ensuring the safety, security, and well-being of our clients in the extractives industry. We strive to forge lasting partnerships, foster community development, and uphold the highest ethical standards in all our endeavours.

OUR VISION

To be the foremost provider of enterprise security risk management consultancy and advisory services for the mining sector, SRG envisions a future where our holistic approach transforms challenges into opportunities. We aim to set new industry standards, positively impact local communities, and contribute to the responsible and sustainable growth of the extractives industry.

OUR APPROACH

A distinctive aspect of SRG's approach is a strong emphasis on local employment opportunities. By actively promoting the development of professional skills within the communities it operates, SRG not only enhances the capabilities of the local workforce but also contributes to sustainable economic growth.

OUR CORE VALUES

Excellence: We are committed to delivering exceptional services by continuously improving our skills, embracing innovation, and exceeding industry standards.
